The message proposed, to reduce the C-130 flying and permit maintenance capability the optimum flexibility, (a) to augment theater airlift with Air America an additional 5,000 hours per month, and (b) to substitute C-124s when possible in Southeast Asia. C-130 aircraft might be withdrawn to support CINCLANT contingency plans.

(Nessage FACAF to SAF, 13AF, 31SAD, DTG 24/03422 repeating message CINCPAC to multiple addresses, DTG 20/2232). A subsequent message repeated the possibility, and pointed out that the maintenance of SIOP posture might require severe curtailment of present theater air support for Southeast Asia and Korea. (Nessage PACAF to SAF, 13AF, 31SAD, DTG 24/03442 repeating CINCPAC message to multiple addresses, DTG 2319552). Immediately following, another message stated that PACAF could deploy 42 or the 58 C-130 aircraft currently possessed without maintenance standdown, and could deploy ten more within 72 hours. This would require adjustment of strike times to account for delays, would necessitate other adjustments in relation to airlift, training, and maintenance. (Nossage PACAF to SAF, 13AF, CINCPAC, PFOCO-S62-1175, DTG 24/03452 Oct 62).

OPERATIONAL FLAMMING

Fifth Air Force relayed to its units the possibility of withdrawal of all 315AD C-130 aircraft to support CINCLANT contingency plans, which, if actualized, would mean that the C-130s would be out of CINCPAC - posture for 20 to 30 days.

(Hessage 5AF to multiple addressees,

5FMIP 62-2764, DIG 30/0610Z Oct 62).

Fifth Air Force informed FACAF that the use of Fifth Air Force C-54/C-47 aircraft had been considered by 5AF and 315AD, a determination having been made that remaining 315AD-controlled aircraft would satisfy routine requirements of current deployment and initial GMP effort. Some Squirrel Nest missions were consolidated, and High Gear follow-on missions had been revised to some extent. (Nessage 5AF to FACAF, 5FRIP 62-2765, PRG 30/06152 Oct 62).

(Information passed to 5AF from PACAF by telecon, DTG not determined, probably approximately 03/0500Z Nov 62). Fifth Air Force told its units that it would exchange three RF-101s assigned to 15TRS plus one at
